Comment #4 – 7/5/13 – 10:44 a.m.

Hello:

This is a comment on the June 2013 Exposure Draft of "Modeling". In the document, the task force asked for specific comments on several topics; the last one, in part, was:

6. Does the use of bold font to identify divided terms improve the readability and clarity of the standard?

I think it helps a great deal. I found it significantly reduced the effort to reference the definitions as I was reading. Good idea.

Ed Ford

Edward W. Ford FCAS, MAAA, CPCU
Senior Vice President
Chief Actuary - International
Liberty Mutual Insurance